Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 03 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

Detailed Office Action

Status of the Claims

Claims 1, 2, 5-13, 15, 18-35, and 37-49 are pending in the instant application. Claims 1, 2, and 5-8 are currently under examination whereas claims 9-13, 15, 18-35, and 37-49 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

35 U.S.C. § 112, First Paragraph

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. § 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The previous rejection of claims 1, 2, and 5-8 under 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention, is hereby withdrawn in response to the pre-brief appeal conference.

35 U.S.C. § 103(a)

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, and 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schubert et al. (1992) in view of Choe et al. (1996). Schubert and colleagues teach that vesicular stomatitis virus particles are capable of expressing CD4 efficiently on their cell surface and that these particles would prove useful for targeting HIV envelope expressing cells. This teaching does not disclose the expression of a heterologous multiple membrane spanning protein. However, Choe and associates clearly demonstrate that both CD4 and CCR5 are required for the infectivity of primary HIV-1 isolates. Therefore, it would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to express both CD4 and CCR5, as taught by Choe and associates, in the VSV particles of Schubert and colleagues, since this would facilitate their targeting to HIV-infected cells. This would enable the skilled artisan to deliver therapeutic or other agents to the cell of interest.

Correspondence

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Jeffrey S. Parkin, Ph.D., whose telephone number is (571) 272-0908. The examiner can normally be reached Monday through Thursday from 10:30 AM to 9:00 PM. A message may be left on the examiner's voice mail service.
